Dear Mary,

I wonder did you see the morning papers. I got three and will send you the clippings. I had my interview with the papers or rather with the reporters yesterday. I think that they treated me very nicely but they are a hard crowd. They fired questions at me and my but it would be hard to be trying to conceal any crime from a bunch like that.

I am off to Princeton this afternoon to spend Sunday with the TenBroecks. They asked me some time ago and it will be nice to see them
